

Constitution Faults Are Discussed

The Arkansas Constitution puts the state at a disadvantage in the federal system and is helping shift power in the national government, says Rep. Carl Albert, a constituent candidate for the state Constitutional Revision Study Commission, said here Tuesday night.

After Albert told a meeting sponsored by the Democratic County Republican, Warren's Clark said the state Constitution denied the state government some powers that were reserved to it by the United States Constitution and by Congress.

The commission is a few of the constitutional changes being recommended by the Commission. He said a provision allowing a constitutional amendment would achieve economy by reducing the cost of administration. The county government in Pulaski County needs $11.75 a person and in Perry County it costs $14.25 a person, he said.

The amendment process was failed to remedy the defects in the Constitution, he said, and this was why the Commission had voted to recommend a constitutional convention.

CHATTER

By "BILL"

Once again the BIG DAY of Thanks is almost here. There is a great deal of speculation this year over where we should really start giving thanks. A glance at the headlines every morning . . . war with little note of peace, unrest and uncertainty, chaos and riots, too much or too little of almost everything. We aren't exactly a Pollyanna person and we are aware of the restlessness of the times but it has occurred to us that a return to the simple way of life would express the gratitude of a truly thankful heart.

There is a wonderful, mystical law of nature that says that the three things we crave most in life are . . . happiness, freedom and peace of mind and these are only attained by giving them to someone else. So we would like to pass them on to you. On that day in Plymouth Town they went to the Church House to thank God for His goodness. They went thinly clad through the iron winter. They prayed their word of thanks, and stood up unafraid, and faced the future with undaunted souls. Whether it is at Church or at home, on the road, in the air or on the sea, let us be thankful for their bravery.

And . . . since happiness is a peculiar sensation we get when we are too busy to be miserable . . . we are looking forward to a great deal of happiness in the days to come.

Happy Thanksgiving to all of you from all of us and we will be most thankful to greet you the day after . . . at WASHINGTON (AP) — Every day people come to visit the grave of John F. Kennedy, and their numbers now are 21 million. Every day flowers cover the granite stone marking the site.

President Johnson is sending a wreath today, for it was four years ago, on Nov. 22, 1963, that President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

A White House military aide is to place the wreath beside the black slab and the eternal flame above the grave in Arlington

National Cemetery.

No special ceremony was planned at the site. Each year on this date Kennedy relatives and old friends have slipped in quietly to bring flowers and stand a while in remembrance.

In downtown Washington, the 12:10 p.m. Mass at St. Matthew's Cathedral was to be of a quiet nature. Kennedy's body was moved last March from its temporary resting place some 20 feet away.

When heads of state visit Washington now they make it a part of their official schedule to place a wreath at the Kennedy grave.

Anyone may bring flowers to the Kennedy grave, and many do. Tuesday there was one yellow rose lying on the granite, and behind the grave a spray of carnations, two baskets of gladioli and a red rose.

It was a quiet place. Mothers hushed their toddlers as they climbed the white marble steps. Some men removed their hats for a moment. Two women brushed away tears.

Saucer magnolia trees, their branches bare and white, surround the memorial to which Kennedy's body was moved last March from its temporary resting place some 20 feet away.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT:

"I buy my insurance from a independent agent for the same reason that I buy my honey from the grocer rather than the bee. While I might save money from dealing directly with the bee, there's a possibility my lack of training, knowledge and experience would result in my getting stung."

Conclusion: There is no substitute for experience.

A THANKSGIVING THOUGHT...

There is one day that is ours. There is one day when all we Americans who are not self-made go back to the old home to eat biscuits and marvel how much nearer to the porch the old pump looks than it used to . . . Thanksgiving Day . . . is the one day that is purely American.

Royal Just Doesn't Feel Clever

By JACK KEEVER
AUSTIN (AP)—Coach Darrell Royal thought a moment about the Thanksgiving Day football game between his Longhorns and visiting Texas A&M and said, "I don't feel very clever these days."

But Royal, a veteran trooper with 88 victories at Texas and twice that many news conferences, came up with enough quips to make reporters laugh while they wrote.

Catchy phrases have been as much a part of the Royal hall-mark as winning football teams since he took over as coach in 1957, and 1967 was a vintage year for them.

Some were funny, some not, some printable, some not. All were graphic.

Prior to the season, Royal picked out an 18-year-old sophomore to show how young and inexperienced his squad would be and said, "His mother probably still tells him what time to get in."

After Texas Tech beat the Longhorns, 19-13, Royal observed: "We're not exactly a rolling ball of butcher knives on offense."

Commenting on a magazine article listing one of his players as weighing 242 pounds, Royal said, "He couldn't see if he weighed 242."

A wobbly pass from Bill Bradley was called a "wounded bird," and when the quarterback's running and passing picked up, Royal said, "He has a brighter look on his face."

Texas' squad, Royal warned before the Oklahoma game, "is as thin as that paper you're writing on." After the 9-7 Texas victory, he said Sooner guard Granville Liggins moved so fast he "looked as if he was on a string" and the Longhorn center "was jerking him as he snapped the ball." Speaking of his team's lack of enthusiasm for the Oklahoma game, Royal said, "You ought to be wondering how you are going to calm them down to tie their shoes, but I thought I'd have to light pine knots to get them out of the dressing room."

A player hobbling with an ankle injury was "grasshopping it around," he said. Solid tackles were called "turning the ball-carrier around."

After Rice lost the ball numerous times on fumbles and pass interceptions, he said, "Lady Luck was on our side, and we welcomed her in."

Hope Girls Again Lose at Bradley

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

As far as the Hope Lady Cats are concerned, one basketball season ended last night with a 55-19 loss to Bradley. The new season starts with next Tuesday's game at Cale.

Last night's game was not actually the real runaway that the score implies. To be sure, at halftime the Lady Cats trailed 28-14 and were still in good contention. Down 14-6 at the quarter, the girls could never put everything together. At halftime this writer jotted down a few notes on the first two periods, and they went like this:

"The forwards seemed jittery in the first half, and never could settle down when they got the ball downcourt. On the other hand, the guards were being able to box out the Bradley forwards much more effectively than last Thursday, but the second half still is left to prove who will come out on top. If the Lady Cat forwards can start hitting from outside enough to pull out the Bradley guards, we can have a chance of winning."

But we couldn't hit from outside. Meanwhile Bradley showed their superiority by running up a nice lead real quick. When the score got to 39-17 with 13 left in the third quarter, Lady Cat coach Charlotte Gibson pulled her starters for the rest of the game. In the end Hope hit eight out of 50 shots from the field, and one of six from the free-throw line.

Once again Carol Anthony paced the locals, collecting 7 points. Kathryn Coleman had 6, Gail Hartford popped four, and Jo McKemie added two. Six-foot two-inch Glenda Knott led Bradley with 23 points, followed by Jan Allen with 10, Lynda Williams and Peggy Wilson had 7 each. Glenda Allen contributed six, and Debbie DeLony had two.

In the first game of the dark night the Hope Kitty Cats suffered their second loss to Bradley, this one by 56-14. The girls, like their senior counterparts, just couldn't get the ball rolling, as Bradley merely took complete advantage of the locals' inexperience to win.

Dee Singleton paced the Kitty Cats with 10 points, Belinda East had four, and Cindy Hollis two. Peggy Allen fired in 22 for Bradley, helped out by Judy Moncus and Betty Jernigan's 14 apiece and Judy Endsley and Patricia Hinds put in two each.

Both games brought clearly into view the growing problem of officiating, which lately has been questionable at times. This is not to condemn any referee at all, but this writer suggests that the Arkansas Officials Association should be refining their system to improve calling. For instance, the Southwest Conference sends films to officials of games they have worked for review.

This could hardly be adapted to the high school area, but if improvements can be made, they should be quickly. However, I still respect a referee's decision, and also that the referee is in the business because he likes it, and is paid relatively little for his services.

Logan Gets Player of Week Honor

Jerry Logan staged a 30-minute, five-play spectacular Sunday in Baltimore to earn honors as the Associated Press' Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Staffer Gordon Beard nominated the wiry safetyman for five key defensive plays in the Colts' 41-7 ramble over the Detroit Lions.

Lavern Tart Adds to Hold on Scoring

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Lavern Tart of Oakland strengthened his hold on the scoring lead in the American Basketball Association last week, statistics released today by the league showed.

With 460 points in 16 games, Tart has a 28.8 point-per-game average. Bob Verga of Dallas is second with 25.6 points a game and Connie Hawkins of Pittsburgh was third with 25.1.

Mel Daniels of Minnesota leads in rebounding with 17.5 per game and Larry Brown of New Orleans leads in assists with 6.7 a game.

Les Selvig is the leader in three-point field goals with 49, more than the number scored by any other team.

Game & Fish Hearing Is Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chancery Court action here Tuesday means Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller will have to postpone the hearing he had scheduled for Dec. 5 in an attempt to oust some unspecified members of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission for some unspecified misconduct in office.

Chancellor John T. Jernigan held a final hearing on a law suit brought by five commission members who are challenging Rockefeller's right to call the type of hearing he had planned, but the judge gave opposing attorneys until Dec. 20 to submit written briefs.

Sam Robinson, a former associate justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court, who is representing one of the commissioners, asked Jernigan to quash the governor's hearing on grounds that legislation was needed to clarify the ouster section of Amendment 35 of 1944, under which the commission was created.

Robinson also quoted published statements of the governor about the commission and charged that, "There's language there to indicate the whole thing is political."

He said Amendment 35 was intended to safeguard the commission "from people who might have politics in mind." Jernigan refused to quash the hearing, but agreed to a motion by the other attorneys to decide the case on the basis of briefs and previously stipulated facts. He left in effect an injunction he issued against the hearing Oct. 13.

The suit is against the governor and the four persons he appointed to conduct the hearing—Willis B. Smith of Texarkana, Heartsill Ragon of Fort Smith, Courtney Crouch of Springfield and H. W. McMillan of Arkadelphia.

The commissioners who filed it are Ernest Hogue of Welner, Raymond R. Farris of Biscoe, Newt L. Bailey of Rogers, Edward Gordon of Morrilton and Tom Pugh of Portland. All were at the hearing Tuesday.

New Orleans Has Margin in ABA Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Orleans has a comfortable margin in the Western Division of the American Basketball Association and its games are getting easier to win all the time.

Tuesday night, the Buccaneers easily beat Denver 108-90, maintaining their 2½-game lead in the West. Larry Brown and James Jones each scored 23 points for the home-town Buces while Larry Jones led the Denver scoring with 29 points.

In other ABA games Tuesday, Dallas beat Kentucky 112-103, New Jersey took Pittsburgh 114-109 and Minnesota whipped Anaheim 110-101.

In the National Basketball Association, Boston beat San Diego 121-114, New York topped Chicago 125-123 in double overtime, Seattle jolted Los Angeles 137-132 and San Francisco overwhelmed Detroit 124-98.

Bob Verga, the ABA's second leading scorer, led Dallas on its home court, scoring 26 points. Jim Ligon led the Colonels with 23. A last-quarter rally brought Kentucky within five points, but the Chaparrals pulled away for the victory.

Tony Jackson's 36 points led New Jersey to its victory at Pittsburgh as the Americans overcame a 10-point deficit at the end of the first quarter to a 56-56 tie at halftime. Connie Hawkins scored 31 points for the Pipers.

Minnesota chalked up its 11th victory in the last 13 outings at Anaheim. The Muskies broke the game open with nine minutes to go as Gary Keller's free throw put Minnesota in front for good 93-85.

Mel Daniels topped the Muskies with 36 points and Ben Warley was high for the Amigos with 24.

Loser Thurs. Going to Bluebonnet

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Texas-Texas A&M rivalry, almost as traditional in Texas as Thanksgiving, is extra appetizing this year with the Longhorns and Aggies also trying to carve up each other for the Southwest Conference title and a trip to the Cotton Bowl.

The game at College Station, home of the Aggies, shares the feature billing on Thursday's college football schedule with the Oklahoma game at Nebraska where the Sooners try to wrap up the Big Eight crown.

Elsewhere, Villanova plays at Toledo and Virginia Tech and VMI clash at Roanoke.

Texas has dominated the series that started back in 1894, winning 51 times and losing 17 with five ties. The Longhorns have won the last 10 times.

This year, the game rates about even and a victory by the Aggies would give them a 6-1 SWC record, the title and a date against Alabama in Dallas Jan. 1. A Texas victory would deadlock the two at 5-2 and open the way for a possible four-way tie should Texas Tech beat Arkansas Saturday and TCU whip Rice Saturday and SMU Dec. 2.

The loser is likely to get an invitation to the Bluebonnet Bowl Dec. 23 in Houston, although Texas Coach Darrell Royal has said his team would not consider a bowl bid if the Longhorns, now 6-3, finish at 6-4.

Colorado, still with an outside chance to tie Oklahoma for the Big Eight championship, accepted a bid to the Bluebonnet Monday.

Oklahoma, fifth ranked in the nation with a 7-1 record, needs a victory over Nebraska or Oklahoma State Dec. 2 to win the crown. The Sooners already have accepted an Orange Bowl bid against Tennessee.

Georgia, which closes against Georgia Tech Saturday, took an invitation Tuesday night to play in the Liberty Bowl with Syracuse UCLA's opponent Saturday, a rumored opponent.

Florida and Florida State play Saturday for a Gator Bowl bid against Penn State, which finishes against Pittsburgh. Minnesota can win a trip to the Rose Bowl by beating Wisconsin or if Indiana loses to Purdue.

Louisiana State, bound for the Sugar Bowl against Wyoming, ends with Tulane while Tennessee takes on Kentucky before closing Dec. 2 against Vanderbilt. Clemson tries to win the Atlantic Coast Conference title against South Carolina.

In the big game Friday night, Miami of Florida, still entertaining bowl hopes, entertains Notre Dame.

Minnesota Player Is Honored

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Who's John William?
He's this week's Associated Press college football Lineman of the Week, and Indiana knows why.

"He's just a great big, strong bull and a heck of a blocker," Minnesota Coach Murray Warmath says of his 6-foot-3, 255-pound right tackle, who suffers from that job hazard of offensive interior linemen— anonymity.

Minnesota ran 35 plays over Williams and tight end Charlie Sanders for 122 yards and quarterback Curt Wilson scored three of his four touchdowns over William's tackle last Saturday when the Gophers handed Indiana its first loss of the season, 33-7.

"Those last two touchdown drives went over his side almost exclusively," Warmath says. "In the final quarter nearly everything went to that side. He has played an excellent ball game every week."

Tigers of Yerger Beat Prescott

By CHARLES JONES
Yerger Sports Writer

The Yerger Tigers defeated the MacRae Tigers of Prescott last Friday night in Hammons Stadium by the score of 18-13.

The MacRae Tigers scored early following a Yerger fumble on our 16 yd. line. But Yerger scored 6 minutes later on a 23 yard pass play to Spencer Brown from Johnny Smith tying the score 6-6. Prescott scored again late in the second quarter making the half time score, Prescott 13 and Yerger 6.

In the third quarter Yerger scored on a three-yard plunge by halfback Artie Martin, making the score Yerger 12 and Prescott 13. With 4:31 showing on the clock in the fourth quarter, Prescott had a drive stalled on an interception by Horace Johnson who ran it back to the 33 yard line of Prescott. Charles Martin scored on a 3 yard run making the final score 18-13 in favor of Yerger.

The key men on defense were Calvin McPherson, Lonnie Jackson, David Benton, Christopher Hindman and Estelle Hendrix.

Cannon Now Becoming a Receiver

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Billy Cannon agrees that he's past his peak as a runner but his career as a receiver may finally be getting started.

Cannon had his biggest day as a tight end last Sunday, grabbing six passes—three of them for touchdowns—as the Oakland Raiders overcame an early Miami edge and whipped the Dolphins 31-17.

The performance made Cannon the Associated Press' choice as American Football League Offensive Player of the Week.

"A football player reaches his speed peak as a senior in college," says Cannon, who won the Heisman Trophy and was the subject of a bitter court battle between the American and National leagues. In his last year at Louisiana State, he was the first to be drafted by the NFL.

A first halfback, Cannon was the first big name moved by the NFL in the bidding battle that preceded the football peace-producing merger last year.

After three productive seasons at Houston he got hurt and then was traded to Oakland where he began his new career as a tight end. Now, three seasons later, he has developed into a first halfback, a receiver.

"This year, for the first time, I've felt I could be an adequate

Figures Texas Over the Aggies

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Rushing through the final big weekend of college football so that there will be plenty of dressing left when the job is done.

Last week's average: 731. Seasonal average: 731.

Texas over Texas A&M: The annual Turkey Day football morsel with Super Bill Bradley pulling the Longhorns through despite the Cadets' vaunted rooting.

Notre Dame over Miami: A Friday night display of stars in the Orange Bowl. The incentive will be with the well-rested Hurricanes but Notre Dame has Terry Hanratty, Jim Snow and Kevin Hardy.

Yale over Harvard: There was a time when it was believed that everything in the world stood still while this game was played. You can be sure that Brian Dowling, Yale's quarterback, and the Harvard defenders won't be idle during the game on Saturday.

Tennessee over Kentucky: Another of the traditional games but this time Kentucky's record is tarnished by a lack of victories. Another Saturday game.

Oklahoma over Nebraska: Two of the Midwest's finest linemen, Granville Liggins of the Sooners and Wayne Meylan of the Huskers, tangle in this Thanksgiving Day affair on national TV.

UCLA over Syracuse: Last Saturday the Bruins had their hands full with U. J. Simpson of the Southern Cal Trojans, this Saturday it is Larry Csonka, the truck who runs like a human.

Jets Retake Lead on Offense

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Jets have retaken the offensive lead from San Diego in the American Football League team statistics released today after the Chargers concentrated more on defense to beat Kansas City last Sunday.

The Jets, beating Boston 20-14, raised their average yards per game to 374.7 with a league-leading 276.4 of them coming through the air.

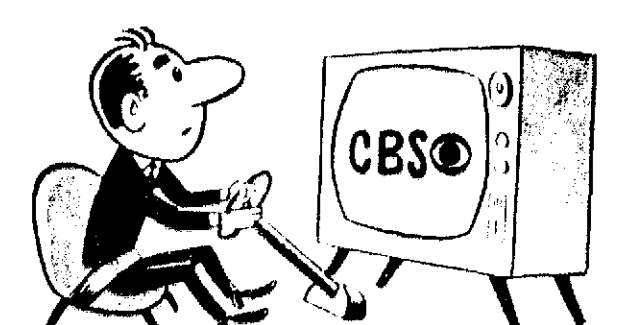

The Chargers, stopping the Chiefs several times at the goal line for a 17-16 victory, fell to 373.4 with a runner-up 252.4 coming on passes.

The defeat also cost Kansas City some of its healthy rushing lead over Oakland, 145.5 yards per game to 136.9.

Oakland maintained its defensive lead in all three categories, giving up 194.7 yards a game, 85.5 rushing and 125.8 passing. Buffalo is second at 245.0 overall with Boston next on rushing defense with 44.6 and Buffalo second on passing with 129.9.

Money Pledged for UA Land

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) - A total of $280,000 for land acquisition by the University of Arkansas was pledged here Tuesday night by 97 persons attending a $1,000-a-plate banquet.

After less than 30 minutes of accepting pledges, the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce was only $20,000 short of its goal of $300,000.

The money will be used to buy land adjacent to the present university facilities. A bond issue that would have financed the purchase was defeated by a 2-1 margin recently by Fayetteville voters.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Battel

SLEEPING BLABBERMOUTH

Dear Helen: I'm scared to go to sleep because I talk too much. This is an unusual problem but I swear it's true.

No matter what's on my mind, I blab it while I'm asleep. Jim, my husband can ask me any kind of question, and I'll tell him. If I happen to have seen an old boyfriend that day, I talk about him. If I'm mad at Jim, I really let him have it, though I can't remember it the next day.

Thank goodness I told my husband all about my past life before we were married four years ago. He knows I wasn't an angel, but, darn it, I'd like to keep a few of my thoughts to myself.

This causes fights at our house. I talk about things I don't even think about, but Jim says I have to be thinking of them or I wouldn't talk. I tell him it isn't fair to ask me questions while I'm asleep, as he's just leading me on. Half the time he's jealous and mad because of something he worried out of me.

How can I button up my subconscious lip?—BRAIN PICKED TALKER

Dear BPT: More to the point: How can your husband batten down his jealous snoopiness? Before you believe this guff about answering questions and telling ALL in your sleep, ask proof, via a tape recorder. Could he be putting words in your mouth?

Next step, ask your doctor to prescribe a safe sleeping pill — for you both — H.

Dear Helen: Funny thing: You often hear women sigh and wish they had the easy life of a man — just eight hours of work a day, waited on at home, week-ends off to watch the ballgames on TV. But have you ever yet heard a man say he wanted the "soft" life of a woman?

Heck no! Men know they've got it good. When my husband has a little headache, he stays in bed, I tiptoe around and keep the children quiet, bring him coffee, aspirin and rub his temples.

But when I have a rip-roaring cold, it's business as usual. Home and children don't wait, nor do husbands. To get a day off, I have to produce a real doct-walloper — like a new baby.

Women will never achieve equality because men won't give up their slaves. If we were REALLY equal, we'd get as much time off as they do, and they'd treat us with consideration instead of condescension.

I wonder what would happen if every woman in the country took a "Wives Week Off" at the same time, leaving husbands to cope with kids, housework, diapers, ironing, etc.? THEN they'd learn how necessary we are. And then it might be too late, for with a week of freedom under our belts, we just might never come back!—FED UP

Dear F.U.: Oh, yes you would. But you sound desperate enough so that you really should try it and see. — H

Dear Helen: We have been married three years and have two small children. Recently, four of the guys where my husband works bought motorcycles. So now he wants one. I think it's childish and unfair, as I'll be home with the babies while he is joy riding weekends, and maybe getting himself killed. He says he should have some time to himself. What do you say?—CONFUSED

Dear Con: Why don't you suggest a trade? If he gets a motorcycle, you'll take up sky diving. I think he'll get the message — H.

One of the unanswerable questions that hits us from time to time is: "Which is more important—the bidding or the play?"

It is about equivalent to: "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?"

Some hands are easy to bid and hard to play, others the reverse. On good days, hands are easy both ways. On bad days, we have trouble with both parts of the game.

Grand slam hands are always hard to bid. There is no trouble making seven diamonds with today's North-South cards. There is plenty of trouble bidding it.

We recommend the bidding in the box and will try to analyze it. To start, we prefer a one-heart opening with the very powerful South hand. It is strong enough for a two bid, but there is practically no chance that a one-heart opener will find himself playing that contract.

The next important call is North's three-spade bid. His one no-trump denied a real spade suit. Hence, North is telling his partner that he has the ace of spades and slam interest after the three-diamond jump.

South merely rebids to four diamonds. He wants to show that he has a good diamond suit. North thinks there is a slam, but North can't be sure that his partner doesn't have two club losers, so he merely raises to five.

South knows that North has suggested a slam but is also worried about clubs. South is going to a slam but he wants to invite seven, so he bids six clubs to show first-round control, whereupon North jumps to the grand slam.

The play is easy. South goes right up with dummy's ace of spades, draws trumps, sets up his hearts and eventually discards dummy's spade losers. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Our Face Is Red
Deck Cleared for Color Run Friday

Among the documentary services which a newspaper performs are the reporting of the weather, vital statistics such as births and deaths — and the calendar service of telling you what day it is.

Yeah . . . and yesterday The Star wore a very red face. It was Tuesday, Nov. 21, but we went to press with "Tuesday, Nov. 28" on every page. Sixteen persons work here — but no one caught it until the press run was well under way.

You can't make corrections on a high-speed rotary press. It uses plates. To correct those faulty datelines would have required going back to the original "paste-up" pages, correcting them, shooting new negatives and making new plates for the entire newspaper. We wouldn't have gotten to press until after dark. You ask how such a stupid mistake could get by a seasoned newspaper organization — our top people have been around for nearly 40 years. It's a matter of routine, day after day, always double-checking what goes into the page "paste-up" before you commit it to the page-negative, the plate, and the press. There comes a day when you forget to check — and you've had it.

As a subscriber you have the right to expect your newspaper to be just as accurate on dates as your calendar is. In nearly 40 years here I recall one or two cases where we fouled up the date on Page One, and an occasional "bust" on an inside page — but yesterday was a classic . . . the wrong date on every page, something that's never happened before . . . at least to us.

Our apologies. And it means extra work for our office for months to come. To collect for the advertising in yesterday's edition — particularly the distant national accounts — is going to require a letter or publisher's affidavit with every invoice.

That's why the First Commandment on every newspaper is: Check your datelines. If you don't, chances are you won't eat regularly.

Last night we completed the second four-color layout of our projected "double-header" color run this Friday, Nov. 24 — and if successful this will be another newspaper "first" for Arkansas. We plan to run the Buffalo River picture on the front page, and a layout of six pictures from the War Eagle Ozarks Handcraft Fair on the back page.

It's never been done before in Arkansas — and relatively few papers in America can do it — running full-color photographs at random throughout the entire edition.

The "register" problem is tremendous. All the pages are "punched" on a registration table and perfectly aligned so that they will respond in unison when the press controls are adjusted. Otherwise you might make a "register" correction on the front page — and find that the pictures on the back page were fuzzy and ruined.

If we have trouble we'll drop out the War Eagle layout on the back page and run the Buffalo River photo alone — publishing the War Eagle spread a couple of days later.

But we've got to make this attempt sooner or later — and Friday is the day.

Would Shoot Lady Bird, Says Negro

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fred H. Brooks, Black Power advocate, testified today he would approve shooting Lady Bird Johnson "if she was my enemy."

Asked whether he would take AIM AT President Johnson, he said he would advocate that "as a last resort."

Brooks, 20, bushy-haired director of a poverty program school at Nashville, Tenn., charged with teaching Negro children to hate whites, told a Senate riots investigation:

"I believe the black people in this country should get their rights by whatever available means."

Kiwanis Club Honors Farmers

Dr. Wayne Babbitt, Director of the Arkansas Livestock and Poultry Commission, was the featured speaker Tuesday before Hope Kiwanis club at the annual observance of Farm-City Week in which Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Montgomery were honored as Hempstead County Farm Family of the Year.

Auttry Wilson, well known Hempstead farmer, arranged the program and served as master of ceremonies. The speaker, however, was introduced by KXAR Radio Manager Haskell Jones, a long-time friend.

B. N. Holt, Chamber of Commerce Manager, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery and presented to them Hope Star's plaque award which goes each year to the outstanding farm family in this county.

The featured speaker, Dr. Babbitt, discussed at length disease control and eradication which he said was the primary function and responsibility of the state livestock and poultry commission.

He said that Arkansas leads all surrounding states in controlling disease of livestock and poultry, but pointed out that the state diagnostic laboratory was understaffed to cope with the $780-million-dollar annual poultry business of Arkansas.

He also pointed out that at the present time Arkansas faces over a production in eggs, broilers, turkeys and also livestock, despite a superior product.

Outstanding farmers through out the area were guests, along with city and county officials and County and U.S. Agricultural officials.

Purpose of Farm-City Week is to bring about better understanding between rural and urban peoples and to increase the knowledge and appreciation of each for our way of life.

Texarkana Woman Slain, Suspect Held

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — A woman clerk was slain and the small food store where she worked was set on fire Tuesday in what police described as an attempted holdup.

Firemen arriving to battle the blaze found the burned body of Hazel L. Capdevielle, 58, near the front door. They said a cash register, still containing the store's receipts, lay close by.

Robert H. Stubblefield, owner of an adjacent motorcycle agency, and his wife told of seeing a man leave the store and run down the street. Police arrested him at a house two blocks distant.

Dist. Atty. Guy Jones identified the man in custody as Rudolph Dunbar, 22, an em-ployee at the Army Ammunition Depot here.

Jones filed complaints accusing Dunbar, a Negro discharged from the Army in September after service in Germany, of

Ship With Medicine for Cong Seized by South Vietnamese Senators Vote Hike in SS Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today a massive Social Security bill carrying 15 to 59 per cent increases for present beneficiaries and larger boosts for persons retiring in the future.

The measure, which would make the biggest cash benefit and payroll tax increases in the 32-year-old history of the Social Security system, was sent to conference with the House.

The conference is expected to be a tough one, with major differences to be resolved over the cash benefit and tax provisions and over new restrictions on public welfare programs.

When Russell B. Long, D-La., called the final Senate product a landmark bill in the history of Social Security.

One of its most important results, he said, will be to move out of poverty more than two million elderly people. This would be accomplished chiefly through a new $70-a-month minimum payment coupled with higher checks for all persons now getting slightly more than the present $44 minimum.

The benefit and tax levels in the Senate bill are largely those recommended by the administration.

Chairman Wilbur M. D. Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, resisted those in the seven months the bill was before his panel earlier this year. He is expected at least to insist on a compromise in the conference.

In addition, Mills and his committee wrote into the measure tight new welfare restrictions designed to cut down on the soaring growth of the aid to family with dependent children program.

The Senate softened these considerably. This also is expected to be a sticky point in the conference.

The Senate stayed in session hours Tuesday, its longest meeting of the year, to complete work on all amendments to the measure.

Long estimated Tuesday, after the Senate completed action on 42 amendments, that the new benefit package would total about $7 billion in the first full year of operation.

That was $1.2 billion more in benefits than the Senate Finance Committee proposed after two months of work on the bill.

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese sailors forced their way aboard the Quaker yacht Phoenix today, hauled up the anchor and towed the craft into the South China Sea.

The yacht's crew of eight pacifists, including six Americans, was expected to sail to Saigon with their cargo of $6,250 worth of medicines, anticipating another expulsion which would get more headlines for their opposition to American participation in the Vietnam war.

Skipped by Robert Eaton, 23, of Annapolis, Md., the Phoenix tried to deliver the medicines bought by Quaker pacifists to the South Vietnamese after North Vietnam said American bombing made it unsafe for the yacht to enter Haiphong with them.

The South Vietnamese government rejected the medicines because they were originally intended for the North Vietnamese and ordered the yacht out of South Vietnamese waters.

One of the pacifists, Harrison Butterworth, 46, a professor of English at Ohio University, stalled an attempt to tow the Phoenix out of Da Nang bay Tuesday night by swimming ashore.

Butterworth was captured by U.S. Marines early today along a section of beach that is considered to be under Viet Cong control. Carrying a life preserver, he was brought to Da Nang where he told Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, the area military commander, that the group intended to sail south toward Saigon.

Butterworth told Lam he made the swim-in because he felt the pacifists had been dealing only with minor military officials and he wanted to talk to the top government representative in Da Nang. Lam replied that the ban on the Phoenix had come from central government in Saigon.

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — Bill Byrd, 29, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee staff, added his name Tuesday to the list of those considering a race for the 1st District congressional seat next year.

Byrd, a Newport native, said in a letter to the Newport Independent that he was giving the idea "serious consideration" because he thought his political philosophy, which he described as "moderate to conservative," was compatible with that of the 1st District.

HILL 875, Vietnam (AP) — Hour after hour of battle gave the living and the dead the same gray pallor on Hill 875. At times the only way to tell them apart was to watch when the enemy mortars crashed in on the exhausted American paratroopers.

The living rushed unshamedly to the tiny bunkers dug into the red clay.

The wounded squirmed toward the shelter of trees blasted to the ground.

The dead—dropped up in bunkers or face down in the dust—didn't move.

Since Sunday the most brutal fighting of the Vietnam war has ebbed and flowed across this remote hill in the western sector of the Dak To battleground. The 2nd Battalion of the 173rd Airborne Brigade went up 875 first. It nearly died.

Of the 16 officers who led the men across the ridgeline Sunday, eight were killed and the other eight wounded. Eleven of the 13 medics died.

The battalion took its first casualties at midday Sunday as it crested Hill 875, one of the hundreds of knolls that dot the ridges in the Dak To fighting region near the Cambodian-Lao-tian border.

All weekend as the paratroopers moved along the jungle hills enemy base camps were uncovered. The biggest was on 875 and D Company lost several men in the first encounter with

Wilson Faces Censure Vote Over Pound

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson faced a House of Commons censure vote tonight assured of his hold on the British government, but anxiety still dogged the devalued pound.

Backed by unified Labor party forces, Wilson was a certain winner against the Conservative drive to topple his government because it cut the value of Britain's currency 14.3 per cent.

But despite the new pound's quick advances Tuesday to the official ceiling of $2.42 on the world money market, financial commentators were cautious about its future and the government's critics predicted trouble.

Congress Hopes to Cut Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — By its late-session drive in Congress for tax boosts and cost cuts, the administration hopes to slash in half this year's prospective $29 billion deficit.

The deficit would be shrunk to roughly $15 billion—still one of the biggest splashes of red ink in U.S. history—by the fiscal package plan to be presented to the House Ways and Means Committee next Tuesday.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler said Tuesday he and Budget Director Charles L. Schultze hope to convince the tax-writing committee "it is doubly important" in view of the international financial repercussions following Saturday's devaluation of the British pound, to "protect the dollar now, because the dollar is in the front lines."

The tax hike is needed, Fowler said, "to reduce substantially the existing deficit, minimize the risks of inflation, avoid escalating interest rates, avoid a credit crunch and reduce our deficit financing to manageable proportions."

Fowler told a news conference the budget target is still the one set by President Johnson in his Aug. 3 tax message—to reduce the red ink to a range of $14 billion to $18 billion.

To approach the lower figure, it became clear, it would be necessary for Congress to make the 10 per cent surcharge on individual income and corporation taxes effective Oct. 1.

The retroactive date will be in the plan delivered to the closed Ways and Means Committee hearing, Fowler said. He acknowledged that retroactivity would involve "administrative problems and difficulties."

Actually, a retroactive personal income tax boost is most unlikely. Congress consistently has rejected such proposals but in some instances has enacted retroactive corporate tax hikes.

Battle Has Cost U.S. 246 Dead

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. reinforcements poured onto Hill 875 near Dak To today as American paratroopers, artillery and planes fought doggedly to root out the last entrenched North Vietnamese.

With at least 246 Americans killed, 860 wounded and an estimated 1,290 North Vietnamese killed, the cost of the 20-day-old campaign around Dak To has been exceeded in the war only by the 30-day campaign just before Thanksgiving 1965 in the Ia Drang valley and around near-by Plei Mel. In that one 371 Americans and 105 South Vietnamese were killed, 558 Americans and 248 South Vietnamese were wounded, 1,771 Communists were killed and 138 were captured.

At noon today, after 72 hours of fighting, two U.S. battalions appeared to be in nearly full control of Hill 875. They were clawing their way toward a bunkered ridge line leading off the crest and still held by the enemy.

The Dak To fighting has become the longest sustained battle of the war, but U.S. officers believe the fighting is petering out. They believe the 174th North Vietnamese regiment, in reserve to the northwest to Dak To, was committed to Hill 875 as a diversionary move so North Vietnam's 32nd and 66th regiments could slip away to the Cambodian border on the southwest and sanctuary from pursuing American troops.

"I have to give the enemy his due," said one senior U.S. officer. "Obviously he had outstanding morale and discipline. He stood his ground" on Hill 875.

The battle for Hill 875 since noon Sunday has cost 79 American paratroopers killed and another 178 wounded, including seven killed and 38 wounded in a fierce clash at dusk Tuesday.

Another battalion of U.S. infantrymen moved onto the hill today, increasing the American strength to 1,500.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that two more battalions of government troops also had been moved to Dak To.

U.S. fighter-bombers continued their round-the-clock hammering of the enemy's deep bunkers in the side of the hill.

Basic Adult Education Classes Here

The State Department of Education in Little Rock has granted approval for the Hope School District to operate five classes in Basic Adult Education.

These classes will include adults, eighteen years old or older, in grades one through eight. Instruction will be given in the basic subjects, such as English, arithmetic, reading, spelling, government and history. Classes are open to all citizens of Hope and Hempstead County, regardless of race.

This is an opportunity for adults who did not complete the eighth grade in school to improve themselves in basic education courses. Persons who attend these classes may receive a certificate from the State Department of Education, certifying that they have attended Adult Basic Education classes. This certificate will be signed by the Commissioner of Education. It is nice to have.

All expenses will be paid by the Federal Government for these classes. Books, paper and other material will be provided without cost to the adult. The individual has only to enroll and attend the classes.

Classes are scheduled to start Tuesday, December 12, 1967 and will meet thereafter each Tuesday and Thursday night. You may enroll any time before Tuesday, December 12 by calling or coming in person by the Yerger High School Office. The phone number is PR7-2691.
